

Your elections in safe hands

idox elections

Reflecting on what was another demanding year for electoral teams across the country, we've been able to offer innovative technology that provides the strength, stability and support to truly take the pressure off customers when they've needed it most.

We've developed solid solutions that busy teams can adapt to suit their own requirements, and continue to advance our systems so they remain robust and relevant in an ever-changing electoral world.

We have the scope, scale and services to ensure your elections are always in safe hands...

52% of UK's area covered by our EMS solution

Our powerful EMS is already helping hundreds of electoral administrators deliver savings through smarter, more efficient working. We have more than 20 million electors registered, supporting a comprehensive and effective election management process.

3,600,000 ballot papers contracted to be printed and dispatched at the next nationwide election

Our team provides a premium service that manages the complexities of the entire print process. With extensive experience, our offering complies with all electoral legislation, is approved by Royal Mail, and is delivered to suit individual requirements.

1,024,441 households emailed using our innovative eCanvass – equivalent to 313 trees worth of HEFs

Our technology has the capacity to support local authorities of all sizes, with a dedicated team on hand 24/7 to offer a consultative, first-class service for streamlined elections delivery.

1.9 million votes electronically counted in Scotland in May 2017

With over 100 eCounts now conducted, our service is proven to scan ballots in hours and provide calculations in minutes, reducing the count time significantly while offering full transparency and accuracy from start to finish.

36.2% of HEFs led to an electronic response in 2018, representing 227,000 hours' worth of work saved

Efficient, timely and accurate, our technology removes the manual processes involved in day-to-day electoral tasks, freeing time and enabling electoral teams to focus on the elections day itself.

75,000+ polling station staff trained since 2012

We've equipped thousands of local authorities with high-quality, convenient training in a way that engages polling station staff and fits around individual schedules.

With more than 25 years' experience, let us be the support that facilitates fair, transparent democracy for your electorate.
